Credit Attributed to Drama Department As Hellman's 'Little Foxes' Is Presented

By S. B. Harwick

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The STAR asked S. B. Harwick, a drama student at Valley College, to write a review of "The Little Foxes.")

All of this week, from Jan. 8 through Jan. 13, the Crown Players of Valley College are presenting "The Little Foxes," the popular stage and screen play by Lillian Hellman.

The play is adult and important, both in its theme and its character creation, a real test of ability for a young group. The performance last night does credit to the drama department of the school.

The entire cast was well chosen for appearance and character value. Despite the audience intimacy in the central staging method used here, the cast was at ease with no trace of embarrassment, and with only an occasional fluff of lines, probably due to the required "Southern accent."

This story of a money-grabbing Southern family at the turn of the century is an exhausting emotional and psychological experience for young players. Their tiredness by the end of the evening was understandable, and undoubtedly the cause of their waning enthusiasm as the play progressed toward its close. The necessary stamina for such difficult portrayals comes with experience.

The two leading feminine characters, Regina, portrayed by Barbara Price, and Birdie by Beverly Zanoline are an excellent study in contrast. Regina strong-willed, rapacious, and Birdie weak, defeated by life. Miss Price carried her difficult role imperiously with potential talent, and Miss Zanoline's third act display of drunken hysteria was excellent.

Margaret Kincher as Addie was well submerged in her role of old family retainer, and Susan McPherson was properly beautiful as young Alexandra.

Richard Reynolds played the unruffled, evil Ben Hubbard with fine stage presence, and Stan Fishman as his brother, Oscar, was an admirable, long-suffering partner in crime. Brad Browne's Leo was a capable performance of Oscar's ne'er do well son, and Richard Gifford's Horace was a convincing performance of a dying man. Stuart Hirsh was the sophisticated Northerner, and Tommy Leetch the capable, unobtrusive servant.

Bob E. Davis, college instructor, directed the play. Lenita in charge of properties, Carol Sherwood and Jackie Asmead costumes.

Woods and Jonnie Moore were

The next production of the Crown Players, "Home of the Brave," should provide another interesting dramatic experience for both players and audience.

SMCC Game Changed
Tomorrow night's basketball game with Santa Monica City College will be played at San Fernando High at 8 p.m. because Van Nuys High School is using its gym.

New Editor Brings Talent, Experience To Head STAR

By Dellaine Hazen

One of the hardest working students on Valley College's campus is Bill Tunnell, newly elected editor of THE VALLEY STAR.

Tunnell worked as student director of Homecoming along with William McNelis, counselor. He has been active in student activities since coming to Valley from Glendale City College in the spring of 1950.

Tunnell spent 17 months in Alaska while serving three years in the United States Air Force.

The managing editor position on the STAR went this semester to Tunnell, who, since he has had all the journalism courses offered at Valley, was well qualified for the position. While attending Glendale, he wrote for El Vaquero, student publication.

Sigma Tau Sigma, social science honor fraternity and Gamma Delta Upsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, both merit his membership. He is president of the latter.

Dick Yamashita Elected To Govern Monarchs; De Luca Chosen V.P.

Dick Yamashita will serve next semester as Associated Students' President elect, it was announced Wednesday by the election committee.

After three days of voting, Monarchs chose Yamashita by a margin of 46 votes. The winner received 123 while his opponent, Ray Carter, received 77.

While campaigning for the presidential post, Yamashita stressed unity between the student body and the Executive Council. "You Monarchs can't sit back and let the Council do all the work. It's up to you to cheer our teams ahead and support the activities planned by the Council," stated Yamashita.

The vice-president's office was taken by Fred De Luca who pulled 109 votes. The other two candidates, Ray Knapp and Robert Lee Gray, received 30 and 56 votes respectively.

Both Kathy Moore and Eddie Freeman received the necessary 51 percent of all votes cast and so will assume their offices of secretary and treasurer.

Elected by more than half majority also were Dellaine Hazen, (Continued on Page 4)

Spring Classes' Enrollment Same, Predicts Coultas

For the first time, Valley College is offering a full four-semester program of junior college work, and, as a result, is planning for its first graduating class in June.

Walter Coultas, dean of instruction, predicts an enrollment of approximately the same number of students next semester in spite of the heavy enlistments.

Registration will take place on Monday, Jan. 29, and Tuesday, Jan. 30, at 8:30 a.m. Jan. 29 has been set aside for the registration of all students now attending Valley. All entering students, plus other "old" students, will register Tuesday, Jan. 30. Over 300 students who are not now attending Valley have been pre-registered.

Lettermen Elect Masry, President

New officers were elected for the Lettermen's Club Tuesday at the regular meeting. Ed Masry is the new president. Ed Austin was president this semester.

Other officers elected are: Ed Austin, vice-president; Wes Hessler, secretary; and Bob Bowen, treasurer. E. Y. Johnson is sponsor of the club.

The club also nominated three members to run for the office of Commissioner of Athletics: Wes Hessler, Jonathan Hermann and Jack Jevne. The Executive Council will choose one of the three to succeed Karl von Poederöyen, present commissioner.

Ed Austin, retiring president, stated that the 14 old members of the Lettermen's Club will welcome 15 new members.

Seeger Sings Swan Song

One might say this is the beginning of the end—that is—the end of another semester at Valley. It is also the time when newly elected officers prepare to carry out the duties of their respective offices.

It has been a pleasure and a great honor to have had an opportunity to serve the Associated Students and the College in student government these past three semesters. It is with regret that I vacate the office from which I have gained so much. I wish to thank the Council members and student coordinators for their interest, support and cooperation in planning and presenting the program this semester. However, this program would not have been a success without the enthusiastic assistance of the on-campus organizations, THE VALLEY STAR, athletic teams, Associated Students, faculty members and the administration.

In the interest of Valley College and you, as an individual, I sincerely urge you to support our new president and his administration.

Again to each of you—thanks for the millions.

Mike Seeger,
Associated Students
President.

-30- Editorial

It has been a great pleasure being editor this semester. I feel that I have learned a lot from my experiences as editor and that now I can go on to bigger things from the knowledge I have gained.

My thanks go to members of the Staff of the STAR who have helped, more than words can express, to make this publication a success.

My gratitude goes to all those connected with Valley for their help in making the STAR mean something to the students.

Especially, I want to thank Mrs. Davis who helped pull us through this semester.

I hope I have served you, the students, well. I sincerely tried!

I want to wish the best of luck to the staff of the STAR for next semester and to all the students of Valley.

—D. Hazen.

If 20 Give Blood, Mobile Unit Will Come to Campus

By Patty Murtaugh

War is bloody and it hurts. In contributing to the Red Cross Blood Bank one experiences no pain; rather, the blood to this cause may bring that fighter back home.

Valley College students have the opportunity to help sustain life when they "bleed a little" the day the Red Cross Blood Mobile stops here.

Students will sign up as volunteers, and, when the list reaches 20 to 30, an appointment will be made with the Mobile to be at Valley to accept the blood of those signed up and others who will contribute.

Mr. Edward Clark is organizing the campaign and will sign those who volunteer for the quota list in faculty's office, R. 3.

Performers Needed For Planned Show

At their regular meeting Tuesday the members of the Executive Council decided to investigate the possibility of presenting a "talent assembly" next semester. All performers would be Valley College students.

To determine the feasibility of such a plan they request anyone who can entertain by singing, dancing, acting, etc., to give his name and type of act to the newly elected commissioner of assemblies.

Persons who cannot perform can help by getting their talented friends to make themselves known.

Nursery Education Offers Opportunities To Students

"Our children are our greatest resource," states John Penery, nursery education instructor; "therefore we must offer them a wholesome environment during their formative years if we can expect them to contribute to our democratic ideals."

With this goal in mind, several Valley College students are taking the child care course in preparation for their careers as teachers. This two-year terminal course provides an opportunity to enter an undeveloped, but recognized as vital, branch of the teaching profession.

Class instruction plus observation and practice teaching in child care centers constitute the course. Subjects in music, nutrition, child behavior, teaching techniques and use of materials and nursery school administration are included in the course of study.

Child care centers are under the supervision of district educational systems and are operated on funds appropriated by the State Legislature. They were created to accommodate:

1. Children whose parents have separated and no provision can be made for a full-time sitter or, due to financial reasons, the child cannot be placed in a nursery school.

2. Cases in which both parents are forced to work to support the family.

3. Children of veterans who attend school and whose wives work.

At the present time provisions are being made to include in the program children of defense plant workers. A fee, regulated according to the financial status of the family, is charged for each child enrolled.

Expansion of the Child Care Center program is expected to be widespread and permanent throughout the state during the near future. Mr. Penery explained Valley's part in the new program when he said, "One of the greatest problems that will be faced by the necessary expansion of these centers will be in finding trained personnel. When the course offered here is completed, our students will become teachers who will help satisfy this need."

Instructor Butcher To Head Publicity Of AC Committee

Miss B. E. Butcher, Valley College chemistry instructor, has been appointed publicity committee chairman for the Southern California Section of the American Chemical Society.

This section of the ACS sponsors "The Science Reporter," a radio program heard every Sunday over the Mutual Broadcasting System at 11:15 a.m. During the month of January the program will present the continuation of the ABC of the Atom and discussion of Atomic Energy.

On television, the ACS "Magazine of the Week" may be seen monthly over KTLA, Channel 5 at 10:15 a.m.

The ACS is an organization of more than sixty thousand qualified chemists throughout the country. It is the largest scientific organization in the world.

The above-mentioned programs have news of recent chemical work, demonstrations and interviews. They are presented to give a better understanding of chemists' work and are planned, written and executed by chemists.

Annual Polio Drive Reaches Campus

"Your dimes and dollars will help provide immediate care for those who are stricken with polio and will speed the day when all of us will be free from the fear of infantile paralysis," is the theme of the annual Infantile Paralysis contribution drive.

The campaign for contributions by the Los Angeles City Schools will take place during the week of Jan. 15 to 18.

Each student will be furnished with a small coin-insert card during class sessions. On the back of these cards is the statement—"To fight polio! Here are my dimes to help some boy or girl walk again." Students are asked to give as much as they can afford and return the folders to their instructors.

NOTICE

THE VALLEY STAR will not be published Friday, Jan. 19, during final examinations. The next issue will be out Friday, Feb. 2.

VNHS Alumni To Hold Dance In College Hall

The Alumni Association of Van Nuys High School is planning to hold its Alumni dance, on Feb. 2, in College Hall on the campus of Valley College, it was announced recently by Charles Withers, head of the Association.

Chuck Schreiber, former student of Valley, now attending College of the Pacific, is the president of the association.

Admittance to the dance will be by Alumni Association Membership card. Music will be by recordings representing the different class years.

Miss Jean Robb, faculty member of Van Nuys High, is in charge of day time activities of Alumni Day, and Mr. Withers is in charge of the evening's activities.

The dance will begin at 8 p.m.

BULLETIN

Veterans are again reminded that any interruption of their courses of study must be accompanied by immediate notice to that effect to Donald Prinson, Valley College's veterans' adviser.

Hodge-Podge of Thoughts at the End of the Semester: Wish a couple of events would come off as planned. Voting for the student elections was supposed to be over Jan.

9, but due to the late opening of the polls on the 9th, it was extended an additional day. Registration for this voting was supposed to have ended Jan. 2, but due to the loss of the registration book (no kiddin') students were allowed to register as late as Jan. 9. The only reason I can think of for registering in the first place is to get students acquainted with the national system of voting. I'm in complete agreement with this, but why not carry the idea through? Have a set system with set times so it will correspond with the national elections, instead of all this stretching of the time. What if the registration book was lost, which in itself was inexcusable, couldn't an emergency book have been set up in the offices to suffice until the old book was found? This type of schoolboy tomfoolery must end if we ever expect to have an efficient working student government. But credit where credit is due, through the semesters it has been steadily improving.

More Thoughts (?) At Random
Sure hope the Student Union next semester shows an improvement over this semester. Seems like you just can't get some people to clean up after themselves, and the employees certainly can't be expected to clean up after them. They have enough to do right now. I suppose it will be like all the other new semesters: there will be a big deal of threatening to close the joint down if it isn't kept clean, but after three weeks of harping they will give up in disgust. Unlike the election deal, this gets worse instead of better with the passing of the semesters. Hope whoever is elected to student offices are clean-up artists.

Woe on Woe
With the threat of drafting and world disputes we still have to worry about (Ohhh) grades. "Some mornings it just don't pay to get out of bed."

Wanted
Anyone interested in doing photography work for THE VALLEY STAR next semester may contact Mrs. Esther Davis, journalism instructor, or Bill Tunnell, editor, in R. 12.

The choice will be made from sample pictures, recommendations and assignment.

tion are available on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. in addition to regular daytime counseling from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

One Act Play Opens Monday

"The Trysting Place," a one-act comedy by Booth Tarkington, opens Jan. 15 at 3:30 p.m., in the Little Theatre at Valley College.

The play will have a three-day run, climaxing on Jan. 17.

Directed by Brad Browne, the play will feature: Brian Irving as Lancelot; Jackie Ashmead as Mrs. Curtis; Carol Sherwood, Jessie; Dolores Yrigoyen, Mrs. Briggs; Tommy Leetch, Mr. Ingoldsby; and Dick Reynolds, the Mysterious Voice.

ter number 254 in 28 departments. According to Mr. Coultas, there are three types of courses:

1. University transfer, in which nearly 74 percent of the students are enrolled.

2. Terminal, in which 20 percent are enrolled.

3. Short term courses, a new feature at Valley. Students may enter at any time during the semester and accelerate so that they can finish the semester and obtain the correct number of units. This course is planned so that students who, for example, wish to take a job in a defense plant, can take a ten-week course in drafting and still receive the number of units permitted for a full semester's work in drafting.

Extended day and night school has been expanded to four nights per week with the maximum number units permitted increased to 12. Twenty to twenty-five instructors from the regular college staff will instruct the evening classes.

Well, this is the last time this semester that I will pound out a column for THE VALLEY STAR in the capacity of Sports Editor. It's been fun and an experience I can look back on and wonder how I ever came out in one piece.

Handouts

Before I go any further, I think I should hand out some orchids to those deserving of it. That is, all the people who have made my job just a little easier this semester.

First of all, Dick Degnon. Dick has been the Sports Editor's dream, in that any time I needed a story or was short some copy he would bang it out. Thanks a lot for everything, Dick.

Next is Jack McCurdy, who will be Sports Editor next semester. Jack has been a valuable asset to the staff this year and will be a fine editor.

To Bob Kircher, Rodney Ermine and Dick Fox, thanks. I appreciate everything you did for me.

Basketball

Turning to basketball, the Metro season sure started with a bang. Two upsets and one favorite just barely winning.

Valley upset East LA, San Diego upset Santa Monica and El Camino just squeaked by Bakersfield, 53-51. High-scoring El Camino forward, Bob Chambers, was held to two points.

Baseball

Good news hit the campus this week about some baseball prospects who are expected to be here next semester. First, there's Jerry Thomas, who played first string on the UCLA frosh team last year. Burt Dillard, who was all-city shortstop at North Hollywood High last year; and last, but not least, Bruce Erickson, all-valley from San Fernando.

Verdes Jaysee 100-10 and dropped a 56-55 nod to Santa Monica CC in their feature tilts.

Coach Yancy greeted seven returning lettermen from last year's squad and five of them are starters this year. They are Shelly Madison and Bob Gazeley, forwards; Bob Fresenius and Gene Stockwell, centers; and John Ardaiz, Bill Brown, and Tony Salcido, guards.

Last year, in their first time out, the Seahawks captured 8 and dropped 16 contests and held two wins over Valley, 84-39 and 46-39.

Jim Bailey, sports publicity director for the Harborites, states that the team is much taller than last year's, and that there is greater reserve strength on the bench.

Gazeley and Fresenius Best

The aggregation is paced by the sharp shooting of forward Bob Gazeley and the fine pivot play of center Bob Fresenius.

Harbor may not capture the championship this year, but should be in the thick of the battle until its final game.

Harbor hasn't fared too well on post-season practice skirmishes. They had difficulty taking Pierce Jaysee last month, but finally won out, 45-35. A powerful Ventura Jaysee aggregation blasted the Seahawks, 86-48 with their fine center, Ernie Hall went

Basketballers Beat East LA, 62-54; Clements Makes 23 Points to Pace Locals to Initial Metropolitan Win

The Valley College Monarchs printed into a good first half lead and then outlasted the defending champions from East LAJC to win the opener of the Metropolitan Conference basketball schedule, 62-54, last Friday night in the Van Nuys High School gym.

The Monarchs raced into a surprising lead early in the first half, as the deadly shooting of Ralph Clements, who scored 17 points in the first half, led the way. Valley's fine rebounding and high scoring put the Monarchs into the 33-20 half-time lead.

The Huskies came back strong in the second half as the Metro champs came to within 5 points of the Monarchs, who had led all the way, with 3 minutes to play. Valley brushed away the rally in the closing seconds to claim the first victory over a Metro team. Coach Dave Taylor's squad, who was without high scoring center John Bogdanov, went into the game with a 4-7 on and lost record. The Huskies' rally in the last half was hampered by 21 fouls, called mostly in the latter part of the contest which seemed to cool off the closing East LA team.

Ralph Clements made his 16-point scoring average in practice games stand out as he ran up 23 points to top the Monarchs in scoring. Billy Wells scored 12 points, his high for the season, for runnerup spot for Valley. The Huskies' Larry Lumpkin, who sparked the Huskies' late rally, led East LA with 21 points.

East LA's loss of 6 foot 5 inch Bogdanov, because of a broken leg, was a big blow to the squad, commented Coach Taylor.

Anderson To Coach College Gymnasts

Reg Anderson, head coach at Van Nuys High and newly appointed gymnastic mentor at Valley College, issued a call this week for all interested gymnasts to sign up at once for Valley's first gym team.

The first meeting of the gym team will be announced during the first week of next semester. Practice sessions will be held daily, starting at 3 p.m.

Anderson stated that he hopes all former prep and collegiate gymnastic participants will be in attendance as well as those who would like to learn the sport as a beginner.

There is no regular gym schedule in the Metropolitan Conference, but there are several schools that field teams, and contacts with these colleges will be made for meets.

For further information contact Lee Riggan, Bob Richter or Coach Anderson.

Metro League Tilts Tonight, Tomorrow

Renegades Host, Play Monarchs In Basketball Tonight

Valley College will attempt to continue its winning ways in the Metropolitan Conference basketball race when they tackle a strong Bakersfield quintet tonight at 8 in the Oil City.

Hank Pfister, the Renegades' new mentor, has a squad that has copped 7 practice tilts while dropping 3 and last week was topped by El Camino, 53-51, in their initial league start.

El Camino, who has been tabbed by many to take loop honors this year, had its hands full all the way in gaining the narrow win. The Renegades held highly touted Warrior forward, Bob Chambers, to a measly two points, but reserve forward Paul Held broke loose in the final minute to sink a two-pointer and ice the tilt.

Lowell Reynolds, Renegade center, was high man of the game with 19 points.

In practice tilts it has been mainly the fine shooting of guard Alton Mann (no relation to Valley's Charlie), and forward Don Cauble that has carried the Northerners to such great heights thus far.

They hold impressive wins over Long Beach CC and Santa Monica in pre-season battles.

VALLEY 71 PIERCE 42

Valley College's basketball team racked up its third consecutive victory over Pierce College Tuesday by a 71-42 score. The game was played at the Van Nuys High School gym.

Unlike the two previous games between the two schools this year, the Monarchs easily outplayed the Brahmas in a game that was marred by frequent fouls. The half time score was 28-22 in favor of Ben McFarland's lads.

Continuing his recent scoring spree, Ralph Clements again was high scorer with 20 points. Fol-

BASEBALL TEAM HAS WORKOUTS

Valley College's baseball squad began workouts last Wednesday and Thursday and will continue each week every Tuesday and Thursday in the process of ironing out all winter kinks for the first game on Feb. 16 against the Harbor JC Seahawks.

Coach E. Y. Johnson relates that he expects his returning 5 lettermen to be a strong backbone of the team. He adds that he will surely need some help in going into Valley's second Metro season.

The only doubtful returner is Bob Edgerton, pitcher, who is playing nip and tuck with the draft.

VC Meets SMCC; Corsair Win Hinges On Hein's Scoring

Valley College will be out to keep its unblemished Metro conference basketball slate in tact when it meets Gordon Hein and Santa Monica City College tomorrow night.

The fray was originally scheduled for Van Nuys High at 8 p.m., but due to unforeseen events the game was moved to San Fernando High School.

Last week the Corsairs were dumped by San Diego Jaysee, 67-58.

Hein, Corsair Star

Gordon Hein is practically the whole show for the Beach City entry; and, when he is stopped, the team loses. Hein, last year's top scorer in Southern California jaysee ranks, this year set a new four game high in the Chaffey Tournament, when he tallied 91 points.

Coach Sanger Crumpacker's squad holds pre-season practice wins over Glendale CC (twice), UCLA Frosh, Bakersfield and Orange Coast.

SMCC Favored

Santa Monica will enter the contest favorites; but, if Valley can play the whole 40 minutes like they played the initial 20 against East LA last Friday, the Monarchs could surprise.

Same Lineup

Coach Ben McFarland will use Ralph Clements and Dave Summers at forwards, Howard Cole at center, and Tom Crane and Bill Wells will go at the guard slots.

Track Schedule

lowing Clements in the scoring column was big Howie Cole and Bill Weigman with 11 each. Cole also was invaluable in clearing the backboards and setting up plays.

In the first half both teams got off to a slow start and repeatedly missed setups and normally easy set shots.

Led by Clements' 15 second half points, the Monarchs came to life and ran away with the game by scoring 43 points in the second half.

Charles Mann's Jayvees defeated the Pierce juniors, 74-48, in the preliminary game.

Candidates To Attend Society Installation At LACC Tomorrow Eve

Language Students, Faculty To Join

Charter members of the Valley College Chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma, Collegiate Foreign Language Honor Society, will attend the installation and initiation of members tomorrow evening at LACC's Foreign Language Room.

Valley attendance will include 14 students from Valley who are eligible for membership and eight Valley faculty members. The installation will be followed by a banquet held jointly by Valley, East Los Angeles J.C. and L.A.C.C. Chapters.

Those to be initiated include faculty representatives Dr. Vierling Kersey, Dean Walter Coultas, Dean Nena Royer, Dr. Blanche Bloomberg, Joseph Puig, Angelo Villa, Miss Eleanor Vaccaro, Robert Nassi and students Barbara Snelling, Charmain Thomas, Lupe Tostado, Lloyd Jones, Richard Adams, Shirley Wertz, Jim Hamra, Claire Lorna, Duane Satterswaite, John Traller and Gertrude Troiano.

Others include Edwin Scharff, Marcia Kerner and Helen Davis, who represent the three members of Valley's French Club to be initiated. Others belong to Valley's Spanish Club. Sponsor of the group will be French instructor, John Tatum.

Alpha Mu Gamma was organized in 1931 with a four-fold purpose: 1) recognition of linguistic achievement, 2) seeking to encourage an interest in the languages, literatures and civilizations of other peoples, 3) stimulation of a desire for the continued study of language, 4) furthering of ideals of friendship and international understanding.

Sociology Students Perform On Panel

Mary Teachenor, Ruth Barshell, Darrall Wells, Ray Knapp and Bob Gray, Associated Students members of Valley College, will be the members of a panel discussing the question—"Should Marriage and Divorce Laws Be Made Uniform Throughout the United States?"

The panel will be presented on the television program, "Young America Speaks." It will be televised Jan. 24, from 6:30 to 7 p.m. on Channel 4, KNBH (KFI-TV).

The panel members are from John Penery's sociology class.

Valley-Go-Round

By Dodie Joyce

As the last edition of the STAR goes to press for this semester, seems the main thing on everyone's mind is finals! There's going to be some mighty sleepy people around campus as they stay up all night cramming for exams. It's a known fact that according to all known study rules a student is supposed to take the entire term to prepare for the final exams. 'Nough said! Some think you remember more when you study madly just the night before. A commentary should be published to tabulate the after-effects of studying the way most of us do!

Hovden-Seeger Wedding

Looks as if there will be a big crowd at the wedding of Mike Seeger to Erlaine Hovden on Jan. 27. Mike invites all his friends by saying, "You don't need a Student Card to come to this affair."

The wedding will begin at 8 p.m. and will be held at the Central Lutheran Church on the corner of Victory and Tyrone. Congratulations, President Seeger.

Farewell Parties

I'd like to take this opportunity to say goodbyes, particularly to Valley students who have left for the service. Many farewell parties have been held over the past few weeks for Valley men planning to leave.

A gala party was held last Saturday evening at the home of Jim Roemaker as a going away get-together for Jim, Stu Wiley and Dick McGowan. Attending were Bob Baker, Jane McCauley, Nick Giordano, Chuck Castiglia, Jeanne Marcy, Bill Tunnell, Claire Lorna Nancy McCauley, Joan Brask, Dick Degnon, Jack Studley, Eddie Taylor, Tom LeVigne, Marcia Wynn, Jack Rogers, Dodie Joyce and Roy Van Ittersum. The party also celebrated the birthdays of Degnon and Miss Brask.

Being the last time I will be typing away on this column, I would like to wish the best of luck to everyone, especially on those final exams! That's thirty for Winter, 1951.

tion were Nancy and Jane McCauley, Bob Baker and Dee Yrigoyen. Helping count the 202 votes cast were Diane Baker, Roy Van Ittersum and Miss Louise Schutter.

Ballots of the AWS election will be tabulated next week. The date of the AMS election has not yet been scheduled.

Paintings By Marie Scott On Exhibit; 26 Presented

Miss Marie Scott, Valley College instructor, has placed 26 of her recent water color paintings on exhibit. The canvases will be shown at 8505 West Third St. until Jan. 20.

Among the entries are marine life, landscapes, still life, a desert scene and salmon fishing on the Klamath River. Most of the paintings are a year or two old. However, Miss Scott put the finishing touches on a painting to be shown the Monday before the exhibit opened.

Miss Scott studied under Eliot O'Hara, noted authority on painting, during the summer months at Laguna Beach. Mr. O'Hara has written numerous books on painting and has contributed educational film to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The preview was held Thursday, Jan. 4, with, according to Miss Scott, "excellent attendance in spite of rain."

A pioneer member of Valley's teaching staff, Miss Scott attended Columbia University in New York and obtained her degree at UCLA.

The exhibition is open to the public daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

AMS, Lettermen Club Host Athletes At Spaghetti Feed

Valley College's Associated Men Students and the Lettermen's Club are planning to have a spaghetti dinner next Friday, Jan. 19, it was announced this week by Ed Austin, Lettermen's Club president. The dinner will begin at 5:30 p.m. in the Student Club at Valley.

Forty high school athletes will attend as guests of the Lettermen's Club. The speaker and other after-dinner entertainment are not definitely decided yet, says Austin.

Following the dinner, the group will attend the basketball game in the Van Nuys High School gym between Valley and Harbor colleges. The game begins at 8 p.m.

Happy New Year! May 1951 bring about the realization of many new ambitions and ideas. Sound your trumpet . . . make yourself seen as well as heard on these bright wintry days.

SEEKING STYLES

Back from a 1951 previewed fashion showing, and raring to give you all those smart, newsy answers—I found fleecy storm coats in pussywillow gray, bound to be the sensation of a "round the town" wardrobe. Outstanding in the large and varied collection of evening dresses shown for early season dances are the white nylon net ballerinas that swirl romantically above your ankles, and that promise to steal the show on any enchanted evening.

FASHION RENAISSANCE

An idea born of pure, wild fancy and just daring enough to stir the imagination—picador pants! Yes, these are elegant Spanish trousers, mannishly snug, but nevertheless remaining delightfully feminine. Picador lounging slacks are the brain-child of Mexican designers, and they are conquering a world of exclamatory sighs from college girls inside U.S.A. Now you'll certainly look chic

HEAD HIGH

Every New Year demands a few "hat and glove" occasions. The little cloche, neat and snug, was never more apropos. Something new has been added to the chapeau that madame will wear . . . this time the little cloche is knitted, and you can certainly believe it when fashion authorities say that this type of hat will never come out of shape, even in a downpour!

Coquettish as a wink are the snappy leather gloves with scalloped cuffs that button on and off with leisure. With this trick you can have short or long gloves purely by choice.

Fashion is the big word for '51—be sure you keep in step with the times and check that resolution to be a better dressed co-ed.

ALPHA MU GAMMA HOLDS ELECTION

Alpha Mu Gamma, the new Foreign Language Honor Society of Valley College, elected officers this week. The new chapter to be installed and initiated tomorrow evening will be called the Phi Chapter.

Officers are: president, Jim Hamra; vice-president, Gertrude Trioana; recording secretary, Lupe Tostado; corresponding secretary, Shirley Wertz; and treasurer, Helen Davis.

The organization, under the sponsorship of Valley French instructor, John Tatum, is planning many activities for next semester. Mr. Tatum has been affiliated with the Alpha Mu Gamma for many years and is interested in helping to make the organization an outstanding group on campus.

STS GROUP ATTENDS LACC DINNER TONIGHT

Sigma Tau Sigma, National Social Science Honorary Society, will hold its sixth (second for Valley College) semi-annual awards banquet tonight in the Student Union of LACC.

Two Valley students and members of the organization, Eugene Mladineo and Helen Davis, will receive awards. Dick Degnon and Dellaine Hazen will receive service certificates for service rendered. Dean Walter Coultas and drama instructor, Bob Davis, will also be presented with awards.
